- The start line is formed between the orange pole at the front of the battery and a green limit mark (G) if the first mark is to be rounded to starboard, or a red limit mark (R) if the first mark is to be rounded to port.
- The finish line is formed between the orange pole at the battery and the red limit mark (R) if the previous mark was left to starboard, or the green limit mark (G) if the previous mark was left to port.
- An orange inner limit mark will be laid approximately on the start and finish lines. Boats shall not pass between this inner limit mark and the shore.
- Boats shall not cross the line between mark R and the Orange Pole, or between mark G and the Orange Pole, except on the first leg of the course or when required by RRS 28 "Sailing the Course".

17. COURSES

- The course for each race will be indicated by a letter on a board above their race number, mounted by the battery.
- On completion of one round of a course, boats should continue on a further round if the course letter is still displayed. If the course letter has been changed, boats must complete a round of the new course. When the letter F is displayed above a race number, that race will finish.
